RECYCLING AND REFURBISHMENT

With rising alloy costs refurbishment has become a necessity for many companies. Steeltech offers refurbishment as one of our many services. Our customers have the option to send in parts in need of repair so we can replace just the necessary components to get you up and running again. Our certified welders on location, we are capable of weld repairing various types of products such as rolls, radiant tubes, and trays. In the event that the product is beyond repair, you have the ability to use the alloy as a scrap credit towards the purchase of a new replacement part, or for future orders.

At Steeltech, we put great emphasis on personal contact with our customers. For this reason, you will find we have no voicemail or automated phone system. To take customer service to the next level, we offer our 24-hour, seven-days-a-week, toll-free number where you can talk to a human being any time of the day or night. Simply dial 800.897.7833 to contact our highly trained customer service team today.
